Safety

a

2020

American

biographical sports

drama

family

film

based on

the

story of

Ray

McElrathbey,

football

player

who battled

family

adversity

to join

Clemson

University,

having been accepted

football

scholarship

for their

team,

Tigers.

He

quickly

thrust

into

campus

life

as

to

balance

his

school

work

and

career.

begins

to receive

numerous

phone

calls

from

younger brother

Fahmarr,

but

to ignore

him

to study.

an interest

in

sports

journalist

student

Kaycee

Stone

while also butting

heads

with

football

captain

Keller.

One

day,

Ray

learns

that

Fahmarr

not

at home

with

their

mom,

Tonya,

races

back

over

weekend

find

that

their

mother

has relapsed

and

Fahmarr

staying

with

former acquaintance,

presumed

be

dealer.

Fahmarr

to

child

services

and,

faced

with

prospect

losing

Fahmarr

the

system,

decides

take

him

in,

albeit temporarily

so

that

Tonya

can recover

month.

Ray

hides

Fahmarr

dorm

with

roommate

Daniel

Morelli

discovering

him.

promises

to

keep

secret

while

also

helping

him

out.

soon becomes

close

with

though

she

to

suspect

that

hiding

something

her.

Fahmarr

gets enrolled

new

school,

different

environment

becomes

slightly

alienating

for

him.

Eventually,

studying,
